Dedicated to the expression of a terroir and dominated by Cabernet Sauvignon, Château Dauzac reveals a beautifully complex bouquet. On the palate, it displays a subtle balance between the richness of its tannins and the aromatic diversity of its supple fruit, emblematic of a great wine for ageing.

The vines got off to an earlier start than in recent decades. This year, spring frosts were mild and spared our plots. The warmer-than-average spring allowed us to enjoy a magnificent flowering period, which began at the end of May. Until early summer, weather conditions were mild and very humid. This equation meant that our teams had to keep a watchful eye on the plants. Different herbal teas are used for each treatment to reinforce the vine's defenses, thus effectively protecting our vineyard. Veraison begins slowly at the end of the first half of July and ends at the beginning of August. Radically different from July, the weather in August becomes dry, with normally warm temperatures. Conditions intensify in September, with several weeks above 40°C coupled with hot nights. We began harvesting our plots on September 11th and finished on the 27th under optimal weather conditions. The juices are concentrated and rich, but with excellent acidity that will guarantee great ageing potential.

«Over the last ten years, Dauzac has embarked on a vast programme to redefine its wine. The colour of 2023 is very deep, with aromas of blackberry, wood and liquorice. The attack is fresh and elegant, with finesse and a lovely touch of oak. The wine has good length and a cherry finish. The result is in the glass!»

Very good, showing some density with proper structure and intensity. Full-bodied and deep, with complex, integrated notes of cassis, dark cherries, cocoa powder and fine spices. Tight, structured and fine-grained, with a tense, lengthy finish. Really well-built. Better after 2027.

ALEXANDRE MAILLET

«I am delighted to see such a wine that nicely balances strength and softness in the 2023 vintage. From the first sniff, I sensed its massive structure, especially its potent, riche fruitiness, almost indistinguishable from those of a big vintage. Interestingly, despite its abundant tannins, there is no overwhelming heaviness; instead, a velvety texture gently unfolds in the mouth. A hint of violet at the bottom of the glass brings an elegant touch to the tasting, like a dark purple petal growing among hard rocks, embodying both delicacy and power.»

«Dark purple colour with violet hue and almost black core. Expressive nose with ripe plums and blackcurrants, blackcurrant jelly, vanilla, fine toasting and a whiff of blood. On the palate well structured with elegant body, firm tannins and very good length.»

«Dauzac reveals its usual charm, with luscious fruit and extremely well-mastered ageing that adds a hint of fine spice to the black fruit. On the palate, a lovely smoothness, a seductive roundness signed by the blackberry jelly, carried by a tannic coat sewn with finesse. The finish is delicious, delicately zesty and peppery.»

«Chewy tannins, liquorice, fennel, aniseed, good push and pull, rises on the finish, juice underneath the construction, blueberry and raspberry fruits, a construction and texture that keeps you engaged, and slate texture to the tannins. Good stuff, one to look out for, an exceptional vintage at this estate»

«The nose is fruity, elegant, greedy, mineral, fresh and taut, with lovely definition, depth and fine concentration. Elegant aromatic concentration / hint of darkness. There are notes of pulpy blackberry, bright strawberry, a discreet hint of Bourbon vanilla, crushed blue plum, a subtle touch of graphite and cubeb pepper. On the palate, the wine is beautifully crafted, precise, vibrant, round, full, greedy, airy, racy, nicely balanced and offers a lovely textured side. On the palate, this wine expresses notes of violet, full-bodied blackberry, full-bodied raspberry and, to a lesser extent, full-bodied strawberry, combined with hints of sage, herbal tea and star anise, as well as a subtle hint of almost juicy roasted fruit (a Mediterranean aspect to the fruit's approach and ripeness), discreet hints of tonka bean, toasted notes, star anise and a hint of chocolate. Attractive acidity and salinity on the finish. The tannins are mellow, chalky and delicious.»

«The 2023 Dauzac is a racy, heady wine. Dauzac offers plenty of immediacy and overall appeal. Red/purplish-hued fruit, spice and floral notes open effortlessly. Dauzac is pretty intense texturally but not overdone, as it was a few years ago. It's a stylish Margaux to enjoy over the next 15-20 years.»

«... A parfumeur's essence of violet and rose petal, very attractive and very intense, is liberally interspersed with and generously infusing the cherry stony fruit, a little bramble and cassis as well. Finely textured and very impressive. This I find very technically accomplished, the challenges of the vintage well-managed...»

«Deep purple-hued, the 2023 Château Dauzac offers beautiful depth and density in its cassis and lively berry fruits as well as spicy oak, graphite, and liquid violet-like aromatics. It's medium-bodied, has a concentrated, balanced, nicely structured mouthfeel, plenty of ripe, polished tannins, and exceptional purity. It will benefit from 3-4 years of bottle age and is going to cruise for at least two decades. It's impressive, and this is a château to watch. Drink 2029-2046.»

«The freshness of the bouquet heralds a linear wine carried by compact tannins and a supportive structure. Harmonious and slightly creamy, the wine unfolds with precision. It can be enjoyed in its early years, while still offering respectable ageing potential. A flavourful and enticing wine. 2028-2040»

93/100

«Elegant, soft, and refined, the wine pops with its floral edge. From there, the ripe, sweet cherries, hint of espresso, licorice, and juicy berries in the finish really linger.»
